

Update on my studies:

Last year June I sat my first-year exams, which thankfully I passed. Although it was not always easy, I really enjoyed the lectures and the practices in Masanga Hospital and in Makeni Government Hospital. Coming July and August I will sit my second-year exams, for which I'm already studying hard. After these exams I will go for my practices in public health in Magburaka and midwifery in Masanga.

I'm really looking forward to this.
